Sittingbourne mum's warning: Babies under one hit hardest by meningitis and septicaemia.

Anna-Marie Harris

Daughter Amber - Rose died at 4 weeks old in October 2006. She was suffering from Group B Streptococcal meningitis (GBS). She became ill very quickly and went down hill in a matter of hours. Said Anna: "I lost my wonderful daughter Amber-Rose to meningitis in 2006. She was only four weeks old. Meningitis kills two babies under the age of one every week and I would urge parents and carers of young children to be aware of the symptoms as these are devastating diseases which can kill in hours. That's why I'm supporting Meningitis Research Foundation's Awareness Week."

Willing to do: Press, Radio, TV
